

name: class: date:

Countries and Capitals

Learning about _____ and their capitals is an exciting part of geography. Each country has a unique capital that serves as its administrative, political, and often cultural center. For example, the capital of France is _____, known for its rich history and iconic landmarks like the Eiffel Tower. Across the ocean, in the United States, the capital is _____ D.C., named after the first American president, George Washington. Another interesting capital is _____, the bustling heart of Japan, famous for its advanced technology and rich traditions. In Africa, _____, the capital of Egypt, stands out with its historical treasures, including the ancient pyramids. Moving to South America, _____, the capital of Argentina, is renowned for its vibrant culture and tango dancing. The Australian continent boasts _____ as its capital, a city known for its green spaces and modern architecture. In the small European country of Belgium, _____ serves as the capital and is also the administrative center of the European Union. The diverse and populous country of India has _____ as its capital, a city rich in history and culture. Lastly, the cool and northern capital of Canada is _____, known for its chilly winters and beautiful architecture. Each of these capitals offers a glimpse into the _____, history, and modern life of their respective countries, making geography a fascinating subject.

Washington

Cairo

Brussels

Canberra

Buenos Aires

Ottawa

Tokyo

countries

Paris

New Delhi

culture