

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Discovering China

In the heart of Asia lies a vast country known as _____. It's renowned for its ancient history and rich _____, which spans over thousands of years. The Great _____ of China, a world-famous monument, stretches over 13,000 _____, showcasing the country's architectural genius. Beijing, the _____, is home to the majestic Forbidden City and the modern Olympic Bird's _____ stadium. China's cuisine is diverse, with dishes like Peking duck and dim sum gaining international _____. The Yangtze and Yellow Rivers, known as the "Mother Rivers", play a crucial role in the agricultural and cultural _____ of the nation. Mount Everest, which China shares with _____, offers breathtaking views and is a top destination for adventurers. The _____, a national symbol, is found in the country's bamboo forests. Traditional practices such as tea _____ and martial arts are integral parts of daily life. China is also a global leader in _____, producing goods used around the world. Despite its modern advancements, the country holds tight to its _____, offering a unique blend of the old and new.

miles

Wall

life

technology

Nepal

culture

fame

panda

ceremonies

Nest

traditions

China

capital