

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Education in the Age of Sensibility

During the Age of _____, education underwent significant changes. Teachers started to emphasize emotions and _____ in the learning process. Students were encouraged to develop a deep _____ towards others. Literature and _____ became important subjects, reflecting the era's values. Schools introduced discussions about _____ and the importance of being in touch with one's _____. The curriculum was designed to shape not only the _____ but also the heart. This approach to education aimed at creating well-rounded individuals who were sensitive to the _____ of the world and the complexities of human _____. Reading materials included novels and poems that highlighted human _____ and the struggles of the _____. Teachers played a crucial role in guiding students through their emotional and intellectual _____. This period highlighted the belief that education should cater to all aspects of human _____, fostering a balance between rational thought and emotional depth.

empathy

growth

morality

relationships

Sensibility

mind

soul

emotions

art

nature

virtues

beauty

feelings