

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Emergency Response Basics

When an _____ happens, quick and efficient response can save lives. Most _____ require someone to call 911, but before help arrives, the actions of _____ can be crucial. It's important to assess the _____ for safety to avoid putting more people at risk. Once it's safe, checking the _____'s responsiveness is the next step. If they are unresponsive, one should check for _____. In cases of no breathing, CPR may be necessary. For visible injuries, applying _____ to stop bleeding is essential. Knowing how to use an _____ (Automated External Defibrillator) can also be life-saving in cases of sudden cardiac _____. Emergency response also includes comforting the victim and waiting for _____ help. Schools often teach basic first aid and CPR to prepare _____ for such situations. Awareness and training in emergency response are critical components of _____ education. Every year, these skills help save countless _____ by ensuring immediate care is provided until professionals arrive.

- victim
- lives
- breathing
- AED
- bystanders
- situations
- scene
- students
- safety
- emergency
- professional
- arrest
- pressure