

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Exploring Brunei

In the heart of Southeast Asia lies the small but _____ country of Brunei. Its full name, Brunei Darussalam, means "Abode of _____," reflecting its serene landscape and lifestyle. The nation is ruled by a _____, who is one of the last absolute monarchs in the world. Brunei's wealth primarily comes from its vast reserves of _____ and natural gas, which have provided its citizens with a high standard of living without the need for income _____. Education and healthcare are _____ for all Bruneians, and the country boasts a high literacy rate. The capital city, Bandar Seri _____, is home to stunning mosques and lush royal parks, reflecting the country's blend of opulence and Islamic _____. Among these, the Omar Ali Saifuddien Mosque is a marvel, with its golden dome visible from across the city, standing as a symbol of _____ faith.

Despite its modern achievements, Brunei is committed to preserving its environment. The _____ that covers much of the country is part of Borneo's unique ecosystem, home to countless species of flora and _____. This commitment is seen in the Ulu Temburong National Park, often referred to as the "Green _____" of Brunei. It is accessible only by boat and offers visitors a glimpse into the pristine rainforest _____.

Tourism in Brunei is growing, with visitors coming to enjoy its tranquil beauty, rich _____, and warm hospitality. The country's efforts to balance development with environmental preservation make it a unique _____ in Southeast Asia.

wealthy Heart history rainforest fauna oil destination taxes environment Islamic free Begawan culture Peace sultan