

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Guy Fawkes' Role in the Gunpowder Plot

The Gunpowder Plot was a conspiracy to blow up the _____ of Parliament in London. The plotters wanted to kill King James I and other _____. They were unhappy with the treatment of Catholics in _____. Guy Fawkes was one of the key conspirators. He was in charge of the _____. The plotters hid barrels of gunpowder in a cellar under the Houses of Parliament. _____ was caught on the night of November 5th. He was discovered guarding the _____. After being arrested, he was tortured for information. Fawkes eventually revealed the _____ of his fellow plotters. The failure of the plot is now remembered on Guy Fawkes Night. People light _____ and set off fireworks to commemorate the event. This historical event has a significant place in British _____. It highlights the religious tensions of that era. The plotters felt that Catholics were being treated unfairly. The _____ of the plot led to harsher laws against Catholics. Guy Fawkes became the face of the _____. He is often portrayed in masks during the celebrations. Despite the _____, the plot had a lasting impact. It showed the lengths to which people would go for their _____. The Gunpowder Plot is still taught in schools today. It serves as a reminder of the complex history of _____ and politics in England. Every year, on November 5th, the story of Guy Fawkes is retold. His _____ has become synonymous with the plot. The event continues to capture the public's _____. The figure of Guy Fawkes remains a symbol of resistance for some.

- discovery
- Houses
- leaders
- conspiracy
- religion
- failure
- England
- history
- Fawkes
- names
- name
- beliefs
- imagination
- bonfires
- gunpowder
- explosives