

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Julian of Norwich and Medieval Mystic

Julian of Norwich was a _____ living during the Middle Ages. She resided in _____, a city in England. During this time, women often had limited _____ in society. However, Julian became well-known for her spiritual _____. She wrote a book called "Revelations of Divine _____", which was remarkable for that era. This book is considered one of the first in _____ written by a woman. Julian lived in a small room attached to a _____. People from all over came to seek her _____. Her messages of love and _____ were powerful during a time of great _____. She believed that God is _____ and forgiving, which was a comforting thought for many. Julian's life and work show that women could have a significant _____ in a society that often restricted their roles. Her _____ continues to inspire people today. Julian's dedication to her faith and her ability to express her thoughts in writing were quite _____ for a woman of her time. She remains an important figure in the history of _____ and an example of female empowerment.

turmoil

roles

hope

insights

Norwich

impact

church

advice

Christianity

loving

extraordinary

Love

legacy

mystic

English