

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Kerry James Marshall and African-American Art

Kerry James _____ is an influential figure in the world of _____, especially known for his contributions to African-American visual arts. His paintings often depict scenes from everyday _____ of African-Americans, bringing to light the beauty and complexity of their experiences. Marshall was born in _____, Alabama, in 1955, a time and place marked by significant racial _____. This backdrop influenced his work, as he aimed to address the lack of African-American figures in _____ art history. Through his use of vibrant _____ and large-scale formats, Marshall draws attention to his subjects in a powerful way. His artwork is not just about representation; it's a _____ of African-American culture and a critique of its marginalization in mainstream art. One of his most famous series, "_____ Housing," showcases the lives of people living in government-subsidized housing, challenging the _____ and stigmas attached to them. Marshall's commitment to featuring black figures is a deliberate effort to _____ their presence in art galleries and museums. He once said, "You can't be born in _____ in 1955 and grow up in South Central near the Black Panthers headquarters and not _____ like you've got some kind of social responsibility." This sense of duty is evident in his work, which is both a mirror and a _____ into the African-American experience. Despite the progress made, Marshall believes there is still much work to be done in achieving racial _____ in the art world. His legacy is not just in the beautiful paintings he creates but in his ability to inspire future generations of African-American _____ to express their truth through art.

- feel
- Western
- Birmingham
- Marshall
- equality
- artists
- stereotypes
- Public
- Birmingham
- art
- colors
- celebration
- normalize
- life
- window
- tensions