

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Life in a Nunnery

In medieval times, _____ were important religious centers. The _____ living there dedicated their lives to spiritual pursuits. A typical day in a nunnery started with _____ prayers. The nuns gathered in the _____ to worship and sing hymns. After prayers, they engaged in various _____ like cooking and gardening. Education was also a key part of life in a nunnery. Many nuns learned to _____ and write, which was quite rare during those times. They often copied _____, preserving important texts. The nunnery also served as a _____, offering care to the sick. Nuns grew medicinal _____ in their gardens for this purpose. In addition to their daily duties, nuns practiced _____ to enhance their spiritual connection. The _____, who was in charge, ensured the smooth running of the nunnery. Meals in the nunnery were simple, with a focus on _____ and bread. Meat was rarely eaten, adhering to a life of _____. Visitors, including pilgrims and travelers, were often welcomed, demonstrating the nunnery's _____. These institutions played a crucial role in the _____, offering education, aid, and spiritual guidance.

nuns

monasteries

abbess

hospitality

chores

herbs

hospital

manuscripts

simplicity

chapel

morning

silence

vegetables

read

community