

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Literary Analysis

Literary analysis is a critical _____ to understanding, interpreting, and evaluating a _____ of literature. It involves breaking down a text to examine its elements, such as _____, symbols, and _____. For example, analyzing _____'s plays might include looking at his use of _____ to convey deeper meanings. In a literary analysis, readers explore how the _____ uses literary devices like metaphors, _____, and _____ to enhance the story. These devices are crucial in understanding the _____ the author intends to convey. Another aspect is the _____, which can greatly influence the story's mood and _____. The _____ itself, with its structure of _____, rising action, climax, and resolution, is a key focus. Characters are often analyzed for their _____ and their role in the _____. Themes, which are the underlying _____ or messages, tie the story together. A literary analysis is not just a summary; it's an in-depth _____ of what makes a piece of literature _____ and meaningful.

characters

setting

unique

narrative

plot

conflict

development

plot

work

irony

Shakespeare

language

ideas

author

message

themes

imagery

exploration

approach