

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Medieval Banquets and Festivities

In medieval times, the _____ was the center of grand celebrations. During festivals, the _____ and lady would host magnificent banquets. These events were not just about _____, but also about displaying wealth and power. The main hall was lavishly decorated with _____ and the finest tableware. Guests were entertained by _____ and jesters. The _____ often included exotic dishes like peacock or swan. Spices like _____ and cinnamon were used to flaunt wealth. Commoners, however, had simpler _____ with local food and ale. During these feasts, stories and _____ were exchanged, strengthening community bonds. Children played games like _____. Knights demonstrated their _____ in tournaments. These events reinforced the social _____, with nobles at high tables and others in lower positions. Banquets also had a _____ aspect, with prayers before meals. The medieval banquet was a reflection of the era's _____ and social structure.

culture

menu

hierarchy

religious

musicians

blind man's bluff

celebrations

skills

lord

castle

tapestries

pepper

food

news