

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Philosophy and Ethics

Tasks:

1. Write the words in the correct gaps!
2. Scan the QR code to check if everything is correct!
3. Copy the text again in your notebook without any mistakes!

Philosophy is a field that involves deep _____ about the most fundamental questions of human existence. It delves into topics like the nature of _____, the limits of human knowledge, and the foundations of right and wrong. Ethics, a _____ of philosophy, specifically explores the concept of morality and what it means to lead a _____ life. Philosophers from ancient times, like _____, Plato, and Aristotle, laid the groundwork for many philosophical discussions we have today.

Socrates, known for his _____ of questioning, believed in examining life's big questions thoroughly. Plato, his student, focused on the idea of ideal _____ and the nature of justice. Aristotle, Plato's student, contributed significantly to various _____, including ethics, where he discussed the concept of virtue and the _____.

Modern philosophers continue to build on these ideas, exploring complex issues like _____, justice, and equality. They question how society should be structured and what role morality plays in our _____. Philosophy encourages critical thinking and often leads to more questions than answers.

Ethics, specifically, guides us in deciding what is morally _____ and wrong. It addresses dilemmas in various aspects of life, including personal relationships, business, and _____. Ethical theories like utilitarianism, which focuses on the greatest _____ for the greatest number, and deontology, which emphasizes duties and rules, offer different perspectives on moral decisions.

Through _____ and ethics, we not only learn about different viewpoints but also develop our ability to think critically and make reasoned _____. These disciplines challenge us to consider the deeper implications of our actions and the world around us.

reality decisions philosophy right good method choices happiness
politics mean freedom fields branch forms Socrates thinking