

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Remembering the 5th of November 1605

On November 5th, people in the United Kingdom remember the _____ Plot. This event took place in 1605. A group of conspirators planned to blow up the _____ of Parliament. Their goal was to kill King James I and his government. One of the main _____ was Guy Fawkes. He was caught with several barrels of gunpowder in the cellar of the _____ building. The plot was discovered before it could be carried out. The _____ were arrested and later executed for their crime. This failed _____ is still remembered every year on November 5th, which is now known as Night.

On Bonfire Night, people celebrate with fireworks and large bonfires. They often create and burn _____ of Guy Fawkes. These effigies are sometimes called "Guys." The tradition of burning effigies and lighting _____ is a way to remember the failure of the Gunpowder Plot and to celebrate the safety of the _____ and Parliament. Bonfire Night has become an important part of British _____ and history.

The Gunpowder Plot was led by a man named Robert Catesby. He and his group were _____ about the way Catholics were being treated in England. They hoped that by killing the king and his _____, they could start a rebellion and establish a new government that was more tolerant of their _____. However, their plan failed when Guy Fawkes was caught guarding the gunpowder. He was arrested and taken to the _____ of London. Under torture, Fawkes revealed the names of his fellow conspirators. All of them were eventually _____ and punished.

Today, the story of the Gunpowder Plot is often taught in schools. It serves as a _____ of the dangers of extremism and the importance of political stability. Bonfire Night celebrations are enjoyed by many, with _____ gathering to watch fireworks and enjoy the festivities. The night ends with the burning of effigies, symbolizing the _____ of the conspirators and the safety of the nation.

Tower king culture plot leaders reminder effigies Bonfire fireworks conspirators defeat angry caught Houses Gunpowder families religion Parliament plotters