In the _____, music was a vital part of life. The _____ were musicians who traveled from place to place, spreading stories and songs. A troubadour's life was not easy, as they constantly moved to find new audiences. They performed in _____, marketplaces, and at festive gatherings. Many troubadours were also _____, creating their own lyrics. Their influence was so strong that they affected the _____ and language of their time.

The songs of the troubadours were performed in the language of _____, which was widely spoken in southern France. This made their music accessible to many people.
