

name: _____

class: _____

date: _____

Vermeer's Golden Touch

In the 17th century, the Dutch Republic experienced a _____ Age in arts and culture. Among the artists of this era, Johannes _____ stands out for his exquisite attention to light and detail. Vermeer was born in the city of _____, where he spent most of his life. Unlike many of his contemporaries, Vermeer's output was relatively _____, producing fewer than 40 paintings that are known today. His works primarily feature domestic _____ scenes of Dutch life. The use of light in Vermeer's paintings is particularly _____. He often painted women engaged in everyday _____, such as reading a letter or playing a musical instrument. One of his most famous works, "Girl with a Pearl _____", showcases his mastery in capturing the beauty and subtlety of human expression. Despite his talent, Vermeer was not widely _____ during his lifetime and died in debt. It was not until the 19th century that his work gained widespread _____. Today, Vermeer is celebrated as one of the greatest _____ of the Dutch Golden Age. His influence extends beyond art, inspiring literature, and _____. Vermeer's ability to transform ordinary moments into scenes of profound beauty and tranquility remains unmatched, making him a timeless figure in the world of _____.

appreciation

Golden

interior

painters

activities

noteworthy

Vermeer

Earring

small

recognized

art

cinema

Delft